PREAMBLE

The Toquaht Nation values the need to respect, protect and promote our heritage, culture and traditional ways which form the basis of our success and our destiny while understanding that these practices may change and require contemporary expression. As a self-governing treaty first nation, we accept the rule of law within the culture and traditions of the Toquaht Nation.

As the body given all legislative powers assumed through the Constitution, Council will protect the rights of its members to join together to accomplish the common goals of the Toquaht Nation and to enable the members of Council to debate and take action in a fair manner with the least amount of controversy or acrimony possible.
